

PROJECT:

Young Art Hunters is proud to present its second Summer Contest:
WUNDERKAMMER – a ticket to other dimensions.

The exhibition will give the artists the chance to confront each other through different styles and techniques on a specific theme: the voyage to other dimensions. The great desire to estrange ourselves from the world in which we live is mirrored in this new exhibition, where the furthest places of imagination will be imprinted on the canvases of our artists. This journey will take us into a collection of memories and sensations dedicated to dimensions to be explored through the colors, shapes and emotions that each of us contemplates. The great leap of the imagination is concentrated in reminding us that a single small thought can take us anywhere.

The exhibition will take place online in our virtual room Otherside, which is set up just for the occasion. The audience will be asked to vote for the winner through the link that can be found on our website youngarthunters.com, on the contest dedicated page. YAH will award the winner with a solo exhibition which will be set up by the staff in our virtual room Bonsai.

The exhibition continues the cycle dedicated to the new promises of art, to which we want to give freedom of expression and to which the utmost commitment and quality are required, to recreate that rich and creative fabric of the art world, otherwise often stiffened behind pure market logic, which here can find new lymph and stimulus.
